S. S. C. Wins Dairy Bowl, Defeating Brooklyn, 26-13

St. Stanislaus defeated Brooklyn High 26-13 in the annual Dairy Bowl classic played in the Perkinson Junior College stadium Thursday night.

Quarterback Dick Fakler and the pint sized halfback Billy Rhodes the big guns in the Stanislaus attack.

Fakler plunged over for three Stanislaus touchdowns and Rhodes broke loose on the run of the night to add the other.

The first quarter was scoreless, with kicking being the major offensive move of both teams.

But during the next 12 minutes play was confined inside Brooklyn's territory entirely.

Stanislaus scored twice. Fakler moved his team to both of the touchdowns with some very fine running on sneaks and off-tackle plays.

He crossed the goal the first time by diving over from the one yard line. Woodie Santa Cruz, kicked the extra point.

The next touchdown came on the same play but from three yards out.

The conversion failed and the Rockchaws held a 13-0 half-time lead.

After a colorful halftime show the Forest County Aggies came to life.

On their first series of plays in the second half, they marched 72 yards in 13 plays for a touchdown.

The march was capped by an end run by quarterback Billy Jussey, from the 10 yard line.

The end run for the extra point was good.

Stanislaus bounced right back. Taking the kick off on his own 20 yard line, Billy Rhodes advanced the ball to the Rockchaw 45.

Fakler went off right guard on fourth down from the four yard line.

The conversion attempt was unsuccessful.

Several plays after the fourth period began, Rhodes broke off his own right tackle and with the aid of some beautiful down field blocking and a fine exhibition of broken field running galloped 41 yards for the last Stanislaus touchdown.

Fakler passed to end James Schexnayder for the extra point.

Brooklyn took to the air and moved rapidly toward the end zone.

From the Stanislaus five Jussey hit halfback Willy Clark in the flat for the score.

Brooklyn failed to score the extra point.

The Rockchaw line played outstanding ball, especially on offense.

Leon Fazio, Charles Rick, Maurice Artigues, Douglas Talbot and James Schexnayder were the top men in the forward wall.

Coach Farley Day, who finished his fourth football season at St. Stanislaus with the Dairy Bowl victory, said, "I feel very good about the bowl victory. I always like to end the season up good and naturally the best way to do that is with a victory."

He continued, "The boys played good ball against Brooklyn. The offense was very good. The defense was not up to par. This is due to the fact that we concentrated on offense more in the last practice. We thought the defense was too good."

And when you perfect something it is not as strong as the thing you stress."

"The integration of our schools is far off—I would say at least 10 to 20 years in the future. But if this amendment is approved we are faced with a possible loss of our public school system."

Blase pointed out that there are ways to combat the threat of no money for the schools. He said there are enough men in the legislature to block money for anything else if the amendment forces refuse to vote money for the public schools.

Rep. Blase, speaking against the amendment, said, "One of the things I have noticed is that not one of the supporters of the amendment say that it is a good amendment."

a smaller hospital that would be county owned. I don't believe that the county can go into the 30-bed hospital that the Legion wants with the type of hospital that we have nearby. In neighboring cities, such as New Orleans, Gulfport and Piquette.

Lucien Kidd, past commander of the Legion, replied to Seal: "The people here go to other places because they do not have anywhere to go here. Mr. Seal, if you want to go to New Orleans to get your stomach cut, open you can go, but I want someplace in Bay St. Louis where my family can be cared for."

Ed. Ortte, former president of the board of supervisors, said, "Are you going to miss the boat this time? We need a hospital. Why fool around with two ideas and miss the chance to have a hospital at all?"

"We lost one before because the war broke out after the funds had been approved. Let's not have something like that happen again," he said.

Shaw later told the spectators of the offer given him by Howard LeTissier, owner of the Hotel Reed. He told the Legion that he thought it was a good idea and was in favor of it.

John Rutherford, chairman of the hospital committee, said, "It would be a crying shame to take away the hotel from the community. Bay St. Louis is called a hick town now and it surely would be called that if we take away the hotel."

After the inspection of the Hotel by the Legion members present, the board then agreed to call the election. It stated that plans for this election would be made at the January meeting unless a special meeting was called this month.

Shaw stated, "This board adjourns until January but will come back for a special meeting of Mr. Shourds has estimates of all the costs of the different types of hospital ready."

Sportsweek

By GREGORY FAVRE

Well St. Stanislaus won the Dairy Bowl. Now all of the wheels in the organization are faced with a very serious problem. One with many complications to cloud the issue.

The Dairy people, not to be outdone by any of the other post season classics, decided to buy the biggest and best trophy possible.

So they did. And Brother Roland and all the heads of the school are left in a quandary.

Where will they put the trophy? Not one of the cases is large enough to handle the oversized memory of the 1954 Dairy Bowl victory.

We have a number of suggestions.

There is a slight possibility that they could have a major renovation job done on one of the present glass trophy holders.

This brings forth the problem of an engineer and perhaps an architect to prepare the design. It could be an expensive project. But on the other hand it would bring a temporary industry to Bay St. Louis. A crew of workers would be hired for at least a period of eight hours.

The second proposition Stanislaus can consider is to buy a new case made of redwood or even knotty pine with tinted glass, to keep the sun from having a chance to discolor their reward.

If the Brothers do purchase a new fangled receptacle, then it must be dedicated with elaborate ceremonies. After all an occasion like this comes few and far between.

A bottle of effervescent wine, such as champagne, could be cracked over the top of the container. To protect against any damages a cover would have to be made for the crowning.

Also a few extra cases of that sparkling white wine could be kept down for the invited guests, who would have to show their gold lettered invitations at the door to gain entrance.

Our third proposition is that would bring comfort to the Brothers as well as fill their obligation.

They could build a fireplace in the school's office. The trophy could be placed on top of the mantle piece for all to see and admire.

The only things necessary to accomplish this would be the extraction of a couple of walls and part of the roof of the building. A trivial matter when you realize what is involved.

Still another plan that comes to mind is to have two students on duty 24 hours a day acting as honor guards. They could stand very erect, similar to the guards at Buckingham Palace and hold the trophy in their hands.

Three shifts would have to be used so there would be no violation of the Mississippi Child labor law. Money could be saved by using the band uniforms, and the guards would be very dashing.

Regardless of what outlet the powers to be choose, we have to agree on one fact. That is, the Brothers are elbow deep in catastrophe.

Our only wish is that the trophy be moved to some safe place, such as a bank vault for the time being. This would prevent any rushed and haphazard solution to the problem.

Stanislaus Meets

Biloxi Friday Night

The St. Stanislaus basketball team opened its season with three games in four days.

Friday night it meets Biloxi. Saturday night Moss Point travels here and Monday night St. Joseph of Pass Christian will furnish the opposition, in the Stanislaus gym.

New coach Herb Adams was greeted last week by one of the largest basketball groups in the history of St. Stanislaus.

Over 50 boys reported for the first practice.

After several days Coach Adams put this number to the 20 players he will carry on this varsity and junior teams.

Five returning players will see action this year.

They are: Bill Williams, Gary Winkham, Phil Yates, Louis Ladner and Billy Hester.

Other players who will play varsity ball are Jimmy Schaefer, James Schenck, Harry Kershaw, Bill Caldwell, Larry Mathes, Kenny Winkham and Dave Ericson.

This is the first time Coach Adams has handled basketball.

He said, "We have been scrimmaging a little this past week, working with a few fundamental plays. The boys look as well as can be expected for the first couple of days. I have also been stressing condition very much."

Bay High Teams Gain Victories

The Bay High Tiger basketball team fell down considerably, since their last appearance on the hard court and barely managed to pull ahead in the last three minutes, to defeat Poplarville, 33-24.

Charles Moran was the only member of the team playing at his regular pace.

He led the scoring with 10 points.

The girls, with Rosemary Millinery following her usual form, coasted to an easy 54-34 victory.

Rosemary hit for 35 points in three quarters, to boost her season average for the first 3 games to 29 points.

These wins were the third straight for both teams.

Coach Donald Caldwell, stated that has was very disappointed in the way his boys played.

He said, "The boys were just off in their shooting and were flat on the floor. I don't know what was wrong. I could be that they thought they didn't have to worry about the game because they had beat Poplarville so easily the last time they played."

"The girls looked good. I played the second string for almost the entire second half."

Charles Moran was high scorer for Bay High in this game with 12 points.

The accurate shooting of Rosemary Millinery gave the girls a 42-36 victory. Rosemary, who was the leading scorer on the Tigrette quintet last year, tallied 20 points against Lumberton.

In the boys contest Coach Donald Caldwell substituted his second string in the third quarter and played some of his third string boys in the last quarter.

Coach Caldwell said, "I thought the girls looked mighty good against Lumberton."

Bay St. Louis Children Are Youngest Gospel Singers In The World

Two years ago a large group of adults sat with an amazed look on their faces, as if they were in a trance.

Six children were standing in the front gathered around a piano. The youngsters were singing "This Little Light of Mine," a religious hymn.

As you listened you realized why the audience was dumbfounded. These young boys and girls, who had not reached their teen-age years, were singing each in a different voice and all in tune.

A 10 year old was playing the piano by ear and was the leader of the group.

Today the Bay St. Louis Gospel Singers, the youngest group of its kind in the world, are celebrating their second anniversary.

You can't help but wonder how they started. How do they learn to sing so young? And many other inquiries which come to the minds of those who do not believe that the youngsters are gifted with this high talent at such a tender age.

Lillian Lagrange Bouchee, the mother of all the children and their manager, could best describe their unusual talent, by saying, "They were born with it."

Her son, Jesse, who leads the group, has been singing and playing the piano since he was five years old.

He learned these by listening and watching his mother, who has also been a member of some church group since her early years in life.

Mrs. Bouchee explains how both she and Jesse, learned to play the piano.

She said, "I wrote on and received lessons by mail. When I first got them I didn't have a piano, so I used to practice on the bed posts. I would finger the notes where I thought they would be. When I did get one I could play a few hymns Jesse would catch me all the time."

Then I started to teach the little. I knew and he picked it right up. He does not play by note but by ear."

When there were five children in the family, the children began to sing. All of them could not read and even in the present two of them have not reached the school age."

But their mother stated that they just listen to a song and can sing it. She said, "It is unusual I know. But it is true. You can sing them a song and Jesse will play it on the piano and the rest will sing."

The group survived its hardest test in 1951, when Mrs. Bouchee was stricken with tuberculosis and was confined to the hospital in New Orleans for a period of eight months.

But they continued to practice what she had taught them and finally reached the point where they could make their first public appearance.

Jesse plays the guitar and sings. He was an electric guitar player in 1953 of next year.

The group has been in the same manner in which he learned the piano.

This talent, Jesse Willard Bouchee, gave him a small guitar for Christmas two years ago and was making him and his mother to play it as they had done in the past.

The group has sung on several radio stations on the Gulf Coast and New Orleans. It has also made many appearances at churches and halls.

It is booked solid for the next few months.

For as their mother says, "I have to turn down requests because the children are going to school."

They sing with other groups and therefore are known throughout the South.

The group is made up of four girls and two boys. The girls sing in a contralto voice and the boys in tenor.

Other than Jesse they are Chester Lee, Emma Eliot, 5, Nancy Mae, 4, Eugenia Doherty, 3, and Jennie Legitha, 10.

Mrs. Bouchee said the thing that gives her most pleasure in their singing is that "they inspire other children. Many parents bring their children to hear so they will want to learn."

"People are surprised when they hear the way they can sing for being so young."

All of the children, especially Jesse, are very modest and help their mother with the housework and keep the yard clean.

Those attending school are average students.

Their mother said, "They are not geniuses. Jesse, who is very talented in music makes pretty good grades and is a very good boy. We don't have any trouble with any of them getting the big head."

The group will hold its anniversary ceremonies in its church this Sunday afternoon. It will sing with nine visiting groups.

But as always they will be the youngest there.

Pastor Asks Questions

DR. T. J. DeLAUGHTER
(In The Baptist Record)

Our state legislature has voted to submit a proposal to the voters of the state on December 21 recognizing the abolition of the public school system. This is looked upon as a last-resort measure.

With a desire to have more information with regard to the problems faced if such a measure should be voted, someone far more intelligent than I am should undertake to answer certain questions that are being asked with regard to the measure. I, therefore, have listed in this paper, a number of questions which have been suggested by various people who have given some serious thought to this vital matter.

The Jackson County Baptist Pastors' Conference asked that I have these things put in writing and send them to the Baptist Record for publication.

1. What will the mechanics of the new school program be in the event public schools are abolished?
2. In connection with question No. 1, is it good business to circulate signed blank checks figuratively? That is, to abolish our present system without a definite program as to the future of our schools?
3. What will happen to money being given to public schools in Mississippi by the Federal Government for maintenance and operation?
4. What will happen to money given to the public schools of Mississippi by the Federal Government for school building construction?
5. What will happen to money being given to schools by the vocational department for vocational education (these funds are federal and state funds)?
6. In the event public schools are abolished, can the present per capita cost of education in Mississippi be increased by the state?
7. How can corporations be taxed for the support of private schools?
8. How can any property be taxed for the support of private schools?
9. What will become of sixteenth section lands, revenues from which can be used exclusively and only by public schools?
10. In the event public schools are abolished and private individuals buy or lease school properties, will these properties be subject to ad valorem taxation?
11. Will the abolition of public schools result in a return to the days of 1750 and the days of the academy? During this time education was for the masses instead of for the masses.
12. If the public schools are abolished will Negro schools, established as private schools, be under white administration or Negro administration?
13. If public schools are abolished and private schools are established, how can sectarian teaching be prevented?
14. If public schools are abolished and private schools organized, how can the people have any control of such private schools?
15. If private schools are established the properties being leased or bought by individuals, how could we prevent integration of the races in these private schools if the owner or trustee desires that both races attend this school?
16. If public schools are abolished, how can we be assured of a great school system? What will keep various schools in a cooperative, helpful relationship?
17. If public schools are abolished and private schools established, what sort of educational standard will be set for teachers in the various schools? What salary scale?
18. If public schools are abolished and private schools established who would have control of the private schools?
19. If public schools are abolished and private schools established, how will they be supported? Will tax money be allocated to the individual pupils instead of the school as a whole?
20. If public schools are abolished and private schools established with tax money being designated for the individual pupils what will keep pupils in religious or church schools from receiving their share of such tax money?
21. If public schools are abolished and private schools established, what will become of federal and state funds that are now being used in the lunch program and to furnish textbooks for the various schools?

DON'T COUNT YOUR CHICKS before they're hatched

Untold wealth in the form of natural gas and oil deposits lie beneath the earth. However, we can derive no benefit from these resources until they are located, developed and made available.

The producers who assure us adequate future supplies of gas assume huge financial risks in their constant search for new wells. Eight out of nine wells they drill in exploratory areas produce nothing at all.

The only justification for this expensive quest is a profit in line with the risks involved. This profit incentive must be made free from unwarranted regulation, for...

Kathlyn Younger And Horse In College, Favorites In Rodeo

Lake Charles, La. — It was a case of love me love my horse when Miss Kathlyn Younger of Bay St. Louis, Miss., then 18 and an expert equestrienne, entered McNeese State College in the fall of 1953.

And that's exactly what happened to the lass who wrote the registrar that she would not, if she could bring her horse.

Unlike Mary, whose little lamb followed her to school only to be put out by the teacher Kathlyn and her registered Quarter Horse have in a year won an enviable place among the McNeese students.

Right now the blonde co-ed, usually known as Chickie, and her sleek black horse, Beau, are two of the brightest stars on the McNeese horizon as the college rodeo team girls in the McNeese arena Friday and Saturday.

For Chickie will not only offer competition for the title of rodeo queen, but will hold a formidable rival for the nine bronco-busters who enter the barrel race and the goat-tie, the two rodeo events open to women contestants.

Judging from past performances of both girl and horse, the McNeese rodeo team has reason to expect Chickie and Beau to gallop off with the prizes.

Co-owner with her sister, Betty Younger, 23, of Lazy V Stables at Bay St. Louis, Chickie has more than 100 ribbons and 22 trophies to testify to her prowess as an equestrienne.

Born in that tourist resort on the Gulf of Mexico to farming parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest V. Younger, now of New Orleans, Chickie has been riding since she was old enough to stay in the saddle.

When she was in high school in Bay St. Louis, Chickie dabbled in basketball and track and field, but her true love was riding. Her parents, who were threatened by family members when illness forced her father to abandon the farm, the best of her life of the farm.

Chickie and her sister, Betty, have a team of horses and a team of riders. They are now in the saddle and open to the public.

Chickie, however, but the two girls, trained the stables and 200 and 300, as well, Durling the summer months the Younger sisters often have from 30 to 110 pupils a day. They maintain 32 horses and specialize in teaching horsemanship to children.

Although their father did not forbid his daughters' venture, he does not approve of it. Nor does he approve of Chickie's present plans to become a veterinarian.

"A college education," he assured Chickie, "is O. K. but a veterinarian, that's no work for a girl."

Unswayed by her father's attitude, Chickie is now finishing her pre-medical course at McNeese and expects to enter a top-flight school next fall to complete her veterinarian training.

There's only one hitch, Chickie feels. Whatever school she chooses will have to accept Beau just as McNeese has. She can't bear the thought of being separated from her horse for months at a stretch and he is a real trouble maker. He is a real trouble maker. He is a real trouble maker.

But she is optimistic that everything will work out all right. Says she:

"It's not like anything, and I want it enough and it is right in my line of work."

Chickie and her sister, Betty, have a team of horses and a team of riders. They are now in the saddle and open to the public.

"I have two months to feed my horse," Chickie explained as she described the routine she has worked out for her horse, Beau, who is now in the college arena.

In addition, she is carrying 19 semester hours, made her for active membership in Delta Alpha Delta, social secretary, McNeese, the Women's Recreation Association, the Pre-Medical Club, and the Rodeo Club.

She is also a member of the McNeese Quadrille which will make its first public appearance at the Friday rodeo performance.

Last March as the only girl on the McNeese Rodeo team taking part in an intercollegiate rodeo at Texas A & M, she came out with only a second place in the barrel race, and third in the contest of around cowgirl.

She might have used her horse's leg injury to alibi her loss of first place. Instead she gave him full credit for her victory. Said she: "Beau ran on three legs and his heart."

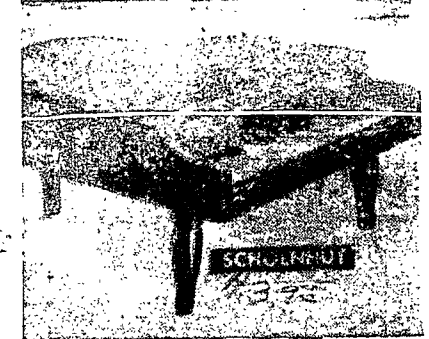

In top form now, however, he will be in the arena with Chickie in the saddle to try for a win for McNeese in the three rodeo shows, Friday and Saturday nights at 8 p. m. and Saturday afternoon at 2.

COASTING

By ANNE ORLEANS
Our busiest travellers recently have been the Mestayer family. Mr. and Mrs. Dick Mestayer went to Los Angeles for the National Homestead Association Convention and had a marvelous time. The nicest thing was that there was no smog while they were there so they had a chance to see all the interesting things in that lovely city. They enjoyed particularly their visit to Hollywood. They stayed at the Statler Hotel and, of course, had meals at some of L. A.'s best restaurants. It was a busy five days.

Their next stop was in San Francisco for three days at the St. Francis Hotel right on Union Square. They had cocktails at the Top of the Mark, lunch at Fisherman's Wharf, did a tour of Chinatown and enjoyed their evening at the Moulin Rouge.

They crossed the snow-covered Rockies and visited Denver for two days. It snowed there but not enough to keep them from sight seeing in Ike's Summer Capital.

The last time the Mestayers tried to go West was in 1947 when they had just reached California when they got the news of the terrible hurricane that hit the Gulf Coast and had to return home immediately. This year's trip repaid them for their holiday seven years ago.

Mrs. Dick Mestayer, Jr., still answering eager questions from friends about the motor trip that she and Christine Renshaw did. They visited with friends all the way from the Carolinas to Connecticut by way of Washington, D. C., and New York. Among their most interesting side trips was their stay in Williamsburg, Va., that Helen had not seen since several years before the Rockefellers began the restoration of that historic town. A similar and equally interesting trip was the one to Sturbridge, Mass., a pre-Revolution settlement which is being restored to its original Colonial status. They also visited many interesting points in both New Hampshire and Vermont. Part of their return trip was along the Skyline Drive in the Blue Ridge Mountains.

Dr. and Mrs. John F. Dicks motored to St. Louis Plantation in Louisiana to spend the week end with Nancy and Andrew.

Gay and their children. This was the Dicks' first visit to the plantation since their return from Europe so there was a big exchange of news.

George Lehlertner left Sunday on a business trip that will take him to Lancaster, Pa., and Washington, D. C. Mrs. Lehlertner did not go with him this time but stayed home to plant sweet peas for March and April blooming.

The new curtains at the Pay-Wayland Yacht Club will have a beige background and big red hibiscus and dark green leaves for a floral pattern. This will make a lovely setting for the decorations for the Christmas party that will be given on the Sunday before Christmas.

Rebecca Allgeyer, Juanita Chapman, Virginia Watts, Maybelle Smith and Mabel Carter made everyone of those curtains. With the new Venetian blinds, the club is really attractive.

Mrs. Anita Sokol back at her home on Nicholson Avenue after a most enjoyable visit at the home of her brother, Sydney Gilbert in Connecticut. The place covers twelve acres, and during the Fall the oaks, elms, spruce and hickory trees were really a beautiful sight to see. Since her return, Mrs. Sokol has been "pushing out walls" and now has a most attractive 30-foot long living room.

Harry S. Hardin vacationing for the weekend at his home at the Bay. During the Spring and Summer the family come over but in the winter the over but in the winter the football games in New Orleans and attend the Icebreakers. Nine O'Clocks and Valencia dances, of course, they just could not miss those events.

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Kirkpatrick at their home on South Beach were Mr. and Mrs. Wesley W. Kergan of Carmel by the Sea in California. Mr. Kergan is National Secretary of Kappa Sigma Fraternity. Also visiting the Kirkpatrick were Miss Declina Rea, of Weston, Miss., and Mrs. Alfred W. Garner of State College, Miss. Still another guest was Helen Means of New Orleans.

The doors of hospitality are always open at the home of Turk and Mabel Carter. Their guests this week will be Mr. and Mrs. Maurice R. Barr and Mr. and Mrs. Gibbons Burke of New Orleans.

Ray and Marie Gordon spent a restful visit at their home on the Beach in Waveland; no children or grandchildren, no company. How quiet can this big house get?

Even though the weather of the past weekend was anything but good, one fish were caught by the persistent fishermen.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Olson reported catching some nice speckles up Jordan River Saturday while trolling. Don't know the amount.

Gus Ames and Laurence Jacob caught a bunch of green trout recently. Gus said they were all big ones. His home on the banks of Bayou Phillip puts the fish practically in his back yard.

Sam Whitfield said he caught some specks trolling - didn't get the place. His camp up on Pearl River is a favorite for weekend trips with his friends.

The death of Clarence Weeks removes a good fisherman from our section. Clarence was from Garyville, La., and a former resident of the Bay and returned frequently just to fish with his friends here. Sorry to hear the bad news.

THIS IS IT! There will be a Spaghetti Supper, this Saturday night, Dec. 11th, 7-9 p. m. at the Pass Christian Isles Golf Club at Henderson Point, preceded by a cocktail party at 5-6:30 p. m. (not included in the dinner). Bring your friends - a good time is assured.

For those of you who have not visited the Fairgrounds this year. Many improvements have been made since last year, including an escalator, grand stand lounge and the addition of 100 new boxes to the grand stand. The horses run about the same.

St. Stanislaus was shooting in fine style when they bagged Brooklyn 26-13 - good going boys.

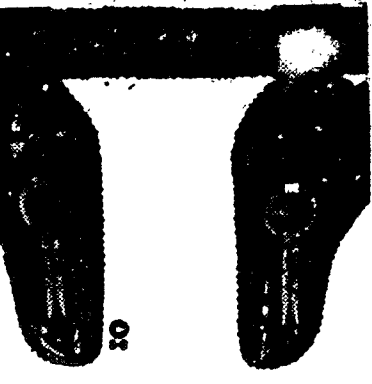

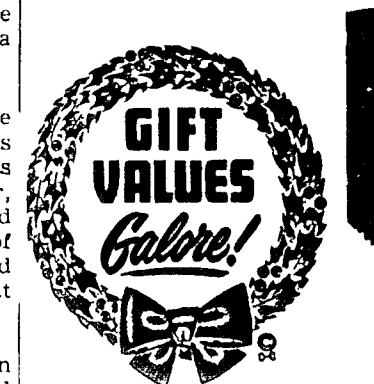

Haven't heard much about hunting lately. The second part of the dove season opens on Dec. 22 and runs through Jan. 10.

Hope there will be more doves than during the first part of the season. Will let you know later.

The Fababber yacht and party out from Mulatta Bayou returned Sunday evening with speckled trout by the hamper. They had a wonderful trip said the skipper.

UNUSUAL - One fishing party reported running into a school of fresh water cat fish Sunday. Five were caught, weighing from two to three pounds, some larger ones got away.

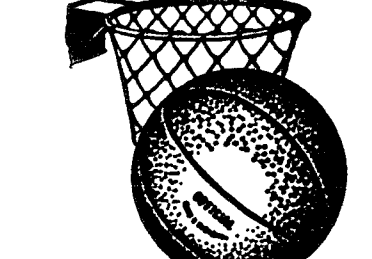

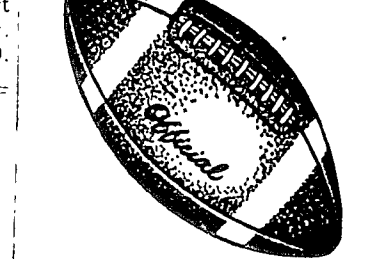

They are still catching specks at Bayou Caddy. Bill Witter and Sid Manier brought home 58 one day last week. They were all nice ones, said Bill. They were using live bait.

Review Of Progressive Business, Professional And Civic Minded People Of Gulfport And Adjacent Coast Territory

This Department Has Been Compiled, Edited and Arranged as a Reflection of Public Opinion By Ralph Voorhees, Jr., As He Saw Conditions. These People Are All Leaders in their Various Lines of Endeavor, and the Cooperation of the many Citizens of Gulfport who helped to make this Department Possible is Appreciated.

J. A. CROSLAND

Mr. A. J. Crosland of the Walsh Stevedoring Co., of Gulfport, has proved his progressiveness by constantly adding to and increasing the service which his business has rendered to the public.

The large volume of business handled by this company proves that service to him is not just a word but something to be extended to the people to the fullest extent of his ability.

And in addition to his close attention to business affairs Mr. Crosland was never a man to dodge his civic responsibilities. He fully appreciates the value of good will and has more than his share of that intangible commodity because of the manner in which he meets both his business and civic obligations.

J. A. Crosland has many friends in Gulfport and it is a great pleasure to bring him before our readers in this review of progressive business men. We sincerely wish for him as much success in the future as he already has accomplished in the past.

MISS M. J. AGUR

It is always a pleasure to bring to the attention of the public a man or woman who has received much recognition for his or her achievements. It is a special pleasure to tell you about Miss M. J. Agur of the Agur Real Estate Agency.

Those who know her well are familiar with her fine business reputation and success and with her many efforts to serve her clientele faithfully and successfully.

Miss Agur is just naturally a modest person and has tried to keep herself in the background, but we think it time that those of you who do not know her have a chance to do so through this little article. Those with whom she has been associated in business activities are aware of her unusual ability and her wonderful personality.

Miss M. J. Agur we want you to know that we are proud of you and that even though we have been slow in honoring you publicly we have for a long time been aware of your worth to our community.

I. O. WILLIAMS

In paying tribute to some of the more progressive business and professional men of Gulfport we would be remiss in our duty should we fail to include I. O. Williams of the Williams Pecan Co.

Mr. Williams is a man who has contributed generously to the welfare of Gulfport and the community for many miles around. His civic spirit and energy is evident by the many services he has performed and continues to perform in the interest of the people as a whole. No worth while enterprise which promises to benefit the community as a whole escapes his attention.

I. O. Williams is a man of wide acquaintance whose many friends admire and respect in him those virtues which inspire confidence and promote good feeling. His upright business methods are a credit to his integrity and sense of fair play. A community is fortunate to number among its citizens a man of his type.

S. K. WARD

As we review those qualities which make a man or woman worthy of the approbation of his fellow citizens, we see that honesty, skill in his chosen field and general business ability are the characteristics which set a person above the average man.

S. K. Ward of Ward's Fish Tires & Supply Co., Inc., possesses all of these qualities and more. He has made it easy for all of Gulfport to observe these characteristics as he goes about his daily routine.

But S. K. Ward applies these abilities to more than his own personal business. He demonstrates them in his activities in behalf of his fellow townpeople. Any civic project which he considers worth while finds him among its backers.

Mr. Ward has long been one of Gulfport's well known business men. We thought it time that we brought him to your attention by giving him this well deserved recognition. We offer him our congratulations and very best wishes for continued success.

H. D. WYNN

The progress of any community hinges to a great extent upon the activities of the more progressive men in the world of business. This is as true in this locality as in any other sector.

Local leaders are thus to be congratulated for their part in the general advancement of the area's status. And a progressive business man who should thus be congratulated is H. D. Wynn of the Waterman's Steamship Corp., who is widely known and universally liked.

Few men have so clearly shown the success possible through the tireless effort and fine contact with the public. He fully deserves that success for which he has worked so hard.

The attainments of Mr. Wynn clearly illustrates the merits of ability grounded in experience and coupled with the added asset of a pleasing and sincere personality.

We commend H. D. Wynn for the successful management of his business and hope he will have many more years of continued success.

W. B. CROSS

Recognized as one of the more progressive business men Mr. W. B. Cross of the United Ins. Co. performs a real service for people of this city and his contributions to civic betterment are too well known to require repetition in these columns. His personal success has been achieved in a large measure, because he never misses an opportunity to further the service his company renders to the public. A policy which has and continues to build up good will for the United Ins. Co. throughout the entire district.

Mr. Cross is deserving of praise and this small tribute is but a just recognition for the many services which he has performed in the way of both business and civic activities. Also his reputation for the successful conduct of his business affairs is no greater than his reputation for the honest practices which characterize his every transaction.

We congratulate W. B. Cross on his splendid record and trust he shall continue to serve the people of Gulfport and vicinity.

H. M. RISH

One of the more progressive business men of Gulfport and a man who deserves the respect and good will of a great many of the residents of the city, is H. M. Rish of the Rish Realty Agency whose wide knowledge and long experience in the business has raised him to a position of prominence in his life.

It is because of this that the Rish Realty Agency has earned a reputation for reliability—second to none. Mr. Rish is also civic minded and has always been ready to contribute his time and energy to any plan which promises to benefit the city. And the people of Gulfport may regard with particular satisfaction the many services which he has performed for the community. His devotion to his city has been constant and his achievements well merited. And we wish for H. M. Rish further success.

J. H. ROSENBLUM

To serve the public honestly efficiently and cheerfully is the basic foundation many progressive business men of Gulfport have found to be the shortest route to success. In making this statement we have in mind is Mr. J. H. Rosenblum of Rosenblum's Department Store. The popularity and patronage enjoyed by the company accentuates the ideal of service which he has consistently applied in the management of the business.

The conduct of such business and the people who operate them have done much to make Gulfport the business center for many miles around, and it is fitting that we give credit, where credit is due, to J. H. Rosenblum for his part in the onward progress of the city.

In doing so we merely put into words the ideas of other progressive citizens of Gulfport with whom he has been associated.

Mr. Rosenblum has earned his success by the method which he has accepted both civic and business responsibilities and we trust that he will continue to prosper.

EVA O. RIPPY AND MARY R. DYER

Mrs. Eva O. Rippy and Mrs. Mary R. Dyer of the Roller Lane Skating Rink are two of those progressive types of citizens upon whom the community depends a great deal for leadership in business and other matters. They have, in the past, and no doubt will continue in the future to give more of their share of time and energy for the welfare of others than themselves. They are the kind of people who make friends. And friendships once formed by them are never broken by an unfriendly act on their part.

However, they proceed in a calm, unostentatious manner and accomplish their objective with a quiet dignity.

We do not hesitate to recommend Eva Rippy and Mary Dyer to our friends as good examples of the more progressive type of business people who are aiding in the growth and development of Gulfport, and the surrounding country.

JAMES MASTON, JR.

Mr. James Maston, Jr., of the Pitt Restaurant, is one of those quiet, unassuming, yet progressive business men of Gulfport who has consistently forged ahead in his business. He also puts his shoulder to the wheel of civic progress whenever concerted help is needed in furthering enterprises promoted for the general betterment of the community.

Mr. Maston was never a man who was given to wishful thinking. His methods are those of direct action and whether the problem at hand is one concerning his own business or that of a civic nature, he attacks it with optimism. Add to this the acknowledged business ability and his keen sense of values and it is easily understood why he is almost invariably successful in business or other matters.

We feel it our duty to call the attention of our readers to these worthwhile characteristics of James Maston, and pay him a well-deserved tribute for his straightforward business methods and for the unselfish interest he has shown in public welfare.

"HARRY" NORRIS

Because this is a period of growth and expansion for Gulfport, those progressive business men who had the foresight and ability to lay plans so as to take advantage of those conditions, are entitled to more than ordinary acclaim. We are glad therefore to pay tribute to Mr. Harold Norris, of Sam's Place in Handsboro, for he is becoming a well-known figure in the business and civic life of the city.

"Harry" Norris's persistent optimism and steadfast belief in the continued future prosperity of the people of Gulfport and vicinity are characteristics which are deserving of our highest praise.

Harry Norris has also, always shown a willingness to do his part in civic advancement and has contributed his bit, in one form or another, to projects promoted for the welfare of his city. We believe that a business man of this kind is entitled to our sincere praise, both because he has achieved success in his private affairs and because he is willing to contribute to the public good.

E. L. TUCKER

Gulfport has attained a prominent position in the business and rural life of this section of the state because of the foresight of those men who had the ability to envision the possibilities of the community and the trade area it serves. And a wide-awake, progressive business man who justly should be included in this category is E. L. Tucker of the Tucker Laundry and Cleaners.

Such men have, many times over, proven their worth to the community, both as business men and active workers in the civic betterment and progress of the city. And Mr. Tucker earned the good will and respect of his fellow citizens for contributing his bit to the general welfare of the city and the people as a whole.

It is our duty to include E. L. Tucker in that group of progressive and civic-minded people who have done much for Gulfport and to express the wish that he will continue for many years to forge ahead with the success which he has enjoyed in the past.

J. N. & C. H. RANDALL

Ability and progressiveness are both praiseworthy features in any chosen profession. Realizing this many Gulfport people as well as residents of this community regard J. N. and C. H. Randall of the Randall Bros. Construction Co., as true assets to Gulfport.

The Randalls are experts in the construction business.

They are untiring in their efforts to maintain theirs as one of the leading businesses in Gulfport. They are well-known throughout this entire area and are capable and energetic.

What the Randall Brothers have accomplished in the past is an indication as to what may be expected of them in the future. They have our best wishes for continued success in their chosen profession.

W. L. PARKS

Gulfport and this area are indebted to many citizens who have been active in the rapid progress of the city and who have assisted in making it one of the up-and-coming cities in this area. In telling you about some of the men it is our duty to include W. L. Parks of the Parks Shell Oil Co., serving the entire Mississippi Coast. He is entitled to a great deal of credit for his success in both business and civic activities.

W. L. Parks deserves a great deal of praise and these few comments are but a just recognition for the many fine things he has done in behalf of the general welfare of Gulfport and the surrounding area.

The honest and successful conduct of his business is but a reflection of his character. We sincerely hope that W. L. Parks will continue to serve Gulfport for many more years.

ARTHUR QUINN

A city grows and prospers by reason of public spirited men and women who take an active interest in its development. And Gulfport has its share of these progressive and civic-minded people, and one who is deserving of recognition is friendly, likeable Arthur Quinn of the Quinn Studio.

His business ability coupled with a thorough knowledge of photography serves in a prominent business position of the business life of the city.

Arthur Quinn has been ready and willing to contribute his time and energy to the promotion of any project which promises to benefit the community as a whole. His efforts are deserving of commendation and support.

We congratulate Arthur Quinn on his past successes and predict that the future will bring still greater successes.
